Meet Tatiana Quaife

Tatiana Quaife is a purpose-driven speaker, executive, coach and thought-leader using her authentic voice and experiences to inspire and empower other Corporate America professionals to unlock and unleash their true potential, and authentic magic, from within.

With fifteen years of leadership experience as a Latina executive at Airbnb, The Walt Disney Company and Procter & Gamble, Tatiana experienced first-hand the pressure and challenges many professionals face during their journeys to success.

Feeling burned out, stressed and overwhelmed by trying to “fit in,” Tatiana knew there had to be a new and better way of achieving professional success. Tatiana went on a profound inner journey to truly understand the barriers holding her back from reaching her truest potential. During this process, Tatiana learned to transform her mindset so she could break through from the inside out and unleash her authentic magic within.

Now, Tatiana is helping individuals, leaders and organizations embrace “inner work” as a new way of igniting meaning, breakthrough growth and results at work—all so that we can together create a ripple effect across Corporate America.
